EXCITEMENT IN VERY HEART OF THE INTERNATIONAL SETTLEMENT

LARGE ATTENDANCE FEATURES MACAO MAY RACE MEETING

Mr. Yuen Wins Governor's Cup On Merry Doer

MISS BETTY FAIR HOME FIRST IN THE LADIES' RACE

A very large crowd—one of the biggest to attend—was present at the May Meeting of the Macao Jockey Club held at the Arca Freta yesterday. There was excellent sport and the magnificent trophy presented by His Excellency the Governor, Dr. Tammaghi Barbosa, was won by Mr. Tucker's Merry Doer, ridden by Mr. S.L. Yuen. The same horse and jockey also won the first race on the programme.

His Excellency Dr. Barbosa was himself present at the meeting. The Ladies' Event was won by Miss Betty Fair who piloted Election Time first past the post with National Anthem (Miss Lord) second and Voltaire (Miss Betty Fair) third.

Deadlock Is Reached In Naval Talks

LIMIT OF SUPER BATTLESHIPS

Washington, May 1. Consultations between Great Britain and the United States to decide the size of the new super battleships have apparently reached a deadlock.

Officials stated that Britain continues to insist that 42,000 tons be the limit while the United States insists that in view of the present uncertainty regarding Japan's intentions no limit should be set.

It is added that the only meeting of the United States consultants had with the British counterparts disclosed complete disagreement.

The British are now waiting for Washington to give fresh instructions to the United States consultants before meeting them again, but there is no indication of any change on the part of the United States authorities. (Reuter)

JAPANESE POLICE TAKE VIRTUAL POSSESSION OF STRETCH OF ROAD

Following Throwing Of Hand-Grenade Several Chinese Injured

Shanghai, May 1. A DETACHMENT OF JAPANESE MILITARY POLICE, with bayonets fixed, took virtual possession this evening of the stretch of Nanking Road lying between Sincere's and Yu Ya Chang Road, formerly Thibet Road, in the very heart of the International Settlement following the action of an unknown miscreant in throwing a hand-grenade.

The Japanese allege that the culprit's objective was a truck belonging to the Japanese Navy which was passing by at the time, namely 5.15 p.m. Some ten to eleven Chinese were injured but there were no Japanese casualties.

GENERALISSIMO APPEALS TO MASSES

Hankow, May 1. An appeal to all Kuomintang members and people in various hsein to exert their best efforts to continue resistance to Japan until the final victory is won is contained in a circular letter issued by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek yesterday.

After months of fighting, China's confidence in winning the final victory in protracted resistance has been strengthened, declared Generalissimo Chiang.

In this national crisis the Kuomintang members in various hsein should not mind of whatever sacrifices but march on with courage. They should especially co-operate with the local officials and gentry to mobilise the people and put up effective resistance to the invaders.

The local elders and gentry, Generalissimo Chiang says, should bear the responsibility of stirring up the patriotic feelings of the people and organising them to render assistance to the regular and guerrilla forces in operations, transport and communication.

Generalissimo Chiang promises that adequate rewards will be given to those who score special merits and pensions to those who heroically sacrifice their lives for the country. (Central News).

SWITZERLAND DEMANDS HER NEUTRALITY BE RECOGNISED

Berne, May 1. An explicit declaration of Swiss neutrality in all circumstances is sought from the League in a memorandum from the Swiss Government.

The memorandum states that the conditions under which Switzerland entered the League had since undergone a profound change and this state of affairs must affect the position of the country being perpetually neutral.

Switzerland considers it her right to request that her complete neutrality should be expressly recognised in the framework of the League. (Reuter).

NEAR RIOT AT MANILA BOUT

TITLE RETAINED BY SHELAEFF

Mandla, May 1. Andre Shelaeff, of Harbin and Shanghai, retained the welterweight championship of the Orient last night when he fought a ten-round draw against Kid Vincent, the Cebu Caveman.

The Filipino, who was fighting the Russian for the third time, conceded a slight shade.

When the referee announced the decision the crowd displayed their anger and a riot was narrowly averted.

Shelaeff weighed in at 144 lbs. and Vincent at 139 lbs. (Reuter).

PRES. ROOSEVELT GOES FISHING

Charleston, South Carolina, May 1. President Roosevelt left here today for a week's fishing cruise "somewhere in the South Atlantic" aboard the new cruiser Philadelphia.

It is believed he may go as far as the Virgin Islands. (Reuter).

Barbaric Ruthlessness Is Threatening Europe

AMERICA MUST BE PREPARED TO WITHSTAND AGGRESSION

Washington, May 1. "The United States must let the world know that it will not supinely submit to forces of international lawlessness," declared Mr. Sayre, Assistant Secretary of State, at the annual dinner of the Society of International Law.

He added: "Barbaric ruthlessness is threatening Europe as well as Asia. When the forces of lawlessness are abroad, supine inaction, in effect, means abiding with evil against good."

"We must be prepared, if necessary, to withstand aggression and lawlessness. This does not mean a desire for war but means recognition of the fact that there are some things worse than fighting, if fighting be for the defence of life or principles."

Mr. Sayre advocated a foreign policy of discarding isolation and including a certain degree of international co-operation. (Reuter).

CZECH PROBLEM SOLUTION

Anglo-French Talks A Contribution To Peace

Prague, May 1. The semi-official Prager Presse sums up the results of the London conference in the words, "contribution to peace." The paper considers the outcome of the London negotiations is satisfactory for Czechoslovakia. Relations between France and Czechoslovakia are already defined by treaty.

The object of the London talks was to ascertain the Anglo-French attitude towards the Czechoslovakia problem. The paper points out that March 24 had, as a matter of fact, left no doubt that Britain is directly interested in the General European question and that the importance of the London conference lies in the confirmation of that interest. The British Government, according to the paper, manifested its interest alike from the political and economic point of view since on the one hand it is endeavouring to bring about a peaceful and mutually satisfactory solution of the question of minorities and, on the other hand, making known its intention to intensify the economic exchanges between Britain and Czechoslovakia.

This, says the paper, is the first time that the British Government has shown interest in the development of economic relations between two countries. (Transocean).

CRITICAL PERIOD OF THE SOUTH SHANTUNG BATTLE NOT YET OVER

Both Forces Manoeuvring For Decisive Stroke

Hankow, May 1. Despite the reported Japanese setbacks in the drive on south Shantung, General Li Tsung-jen is of the opinion that the critical period of the battle is not yet over with both the Chinese and Japanese manoeuvring for the decisive stroke.

According to General Li Tsung-jen, forty to fifty thousand Japanese troops are at present participating in front line fighting in south Shantung with another forty thousand in the rear as reinforcements.

General Dohara's division, states General Li, is distributed on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway at Han-chung, on the north bank of the Grand Canal, and along the Lun-cheng-Tai-chung Railway.

The Chinese commander believes that the Japanese originally planned Isogai's division to cross the Grand Canal, southwest of Tai-chung, and strike at Hsueh-chow but this had been checked by Chinese forces, commanded by General Tang Eng-po.

General Li Tsung-jen maintains that the Itagaki division had planned to cut the Lunghai Railway at Shancheng but had been frustrated and driven back in the direction of Tangcheng.

General Li said that the strength of the Japanese forces advancing along the coast at Yen-cheng is negligible while Japanese troops concentrated in the Feng-pu-Hwaiyuan area totalled slightly over 10,000 men. (Reuter).

PLEBISCITE TO BE HELD IN SPAIN

Barcelona, May 1. Senor Negrin declared that after the war has been won a plebiscite would be held for the purpose of "proving" the social and legal structure of the republic of Spain.

He added that the republic would be a pure democracy and absolutely free from all foreign influences. (Reuter).

CHINESE GUERRILLAS HARASS JAPANESE NEAR NANTUNG

Tsingtangpu, Kiangsu, May 1. Chinese guerrillas continue to be actively harassing the Japanese at districts near Nantung, on the north bank of the Yangtse River in Kiangsu.

On April 28, they made an attack on the Japanese at Jukao and Shinkong and succeeded in dislodging them.

On the same day another column of Chinese guerrillas, led by the magistrates of Tungshien, Nantung and Haimen, descended on Haimen and killed scores of Japanese troops. They also seized more than 1,000 sacks of flour, and 2,000 cases of petroleum from the Japanese.

Following this success, they pushed toward Nantung and engaged the Japanese in street fighting.

Lalan, northwest of here, and Chitung, east of Haimen, have been recaptured by the Chinese. (Central News).

TWO PARADES IN NEW YORK

Counter-Attraction Takes Crowd From Communists

New York, May 1. While fifty thousand Communists were marching to the Union Square for May Day celebrations, a million other New Yorkers were cheering the greatest parade ever staged in the city. It was the first rehearsal of the World's Fair parade, which will open a year hence, will offer.

Four hundred and fifty elaborately decorated floats, trucks, and military vehicles took part in the procession to the Fair grounds at Flushing, Long Island.

On the contrary, the Communist march was witnessed by the smallest crowd for years owing to the counter-attraction of the Fair parade and rain which finally led to the abandonment of both processions. (Reuter).

BATTLE IN TANCHENG

Hankow, May 1. The fighting in South Shantung now centres around Tancheng which was re-occupied by the Chinese on Saturday after having been captured by the Japanese the previous day.

The battle around the town still continues. The Japanese launched an attack against the town of Fhsien which is situated at a point where the Lunghai Railway crosses the Imperial Canal but they failed to reach the town since the Chinese launched a successful counter-attack.

The Chinese declared that the Japanese losses which they estimate at 20,000 dead or wounded, were five times as heavy as their own casualties in these actions. The counter-attacking Chinese troops captured a number of villages between Fhsien and Tancheng.

Chinese military quarters here, however, regard the present engagements merely as a prelude to a great battle and they point out that both sides are now concentrating all their available reserves in the anticipation of such a battle. (Transocean).

HOCKEY MATCH DRAWN IN MACAO

A draw was the result of a hockey match played between the Kai Tak officers and Macao yesterday.

The score was two goals all. In the first half the game was very fast and exciting, the Hong Kong team being the first to open the scoring but soon after Macao equalled.

In the second half both sides scored a goal each. There was no further scoring.

The game was very evenly contested. (Reuter).

BASEBALL SEASON OPENED

THE MILWAUKEE ROAD

CZECHS PLEASED WITH RESULTS OF ANGLO-FRENCH DELIBERATIONS

Britain Would Support France

Prague, May 1.

The first comments appearing here yesterday on the results of the Anglo-French talks voice appreciation of the French attitude in the question of Czechoslovakia and also state that the British Government's attitude proves the far-reaching interest taken by Britain in the matter.

The semi-official Prague Presse interprets the communique issued at the conclusion of the conference as meaning that the two western Powers had decided to urge both Czechoslovakia and Germany to seek a peaceful solution of the conflict arising from the Sudeten German problem.

The paper says that should France, as a result of her obligations, become involved, it is certain that Britain would be mindful of her obligations towards France.

The paper anticipates that the British Government will bring all its influence to bear on Poland and Hungary.

It is further stated that the promised economic assistance to Czechoslovakia and other Central European countries will soon be the subject of detailed study by the French and British Governments.—(Transocean).

BELGIUM'S STAND

Brussels, May 1.
Commenting on the results of the Anglo-French conference, the Vingtime Sacle says that in the event of a European war arising out of the Czechoslovakian problem, Belgium might possibly be placed in the position of having to defend her neutrality and remarks that the French Government is aware of Belgium's attitude.

This is thought to refer to the declaration made some time ago by the Belgian Foreign Minister, M. Spaak, that Belgium could not admit the right of French troops to cross Belgian territory.

The paper expresses the hope that the French Government will counsel the Prague Government to moderation in the interests of peace.—(Transocean).

Mass Arrests In Russia

MAY DAY DISORDERS ANTICIPATED

Warsaw, May 1.

No less than 6,000 persons have been arrested as a preventative measure in Moscow because disorders were anticipated during the May Day celebrations, according to reports in the Polish press.

MEXICANS HELD

Polish newspapers also publish the impressions of an official of the Mexican Legation who recently visited the Lufjanka prison in Russia where two Mexican citizens are held as prisoners.

Both prisoners are members of a delegation which proceeded to Moscow at the invitation of the Soviet Government to attend the May Day celebrations.

OVERCROWDED PRISON

The two Mexicans were arrested upon their arrival in Moscow and charged with having intention of making an attempt on the life of Stalin.

The Mexican Legation official stated that the cells of the prison,

REFUGEES TO RECLAIM WASTE LAND

Canton, April 30.

More than 1,000 war refugees from Central China, who are now in government relief camps here, will be despatched to Poklo, east of Canton on the East River, to do reclamation work.

In Poklo, 100,000 mow of land has already been marked out for the purpose, and a large number of houses, capable of accommodating 3,000 persons, have been built. The 1,000 war refugees represent the first batch of war victims to be sent there.

It is learned that the Land Bureau has appropriated $100,000 for expenses. Another $500,000 will be borrowed from the Bank of China, the Farmers Bank of China and the Kwangtung Provincial Bank.—(Central News).

BUDGET PASSED BY COMMONS

Sir John Simon On Income Tax Increase

London, April 30.

The Budget resolutions were passed by the House of Commons last night without a division.

Closing the debate, Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, referred to the dying out of outraged criticism of his proposals and claimed that they now had the approval of the majority of the country.

He referred to the income tax increase as a "cold shower in which the first shock has been followed by a healthy afterglow."—(Transocean).

ROYAL NAVY

COMMAND OF THE DUNDEE

Captain C. C. A. Allen, promoted in the New Year list, has been appointed to command the escort vessel Dundee on the America and West Indies Station, in succession to Captain L. C. A. St. J. Curzon-Howe, M.V.O. The Dundee returned to Portsmouth a month ago to refit and recommission for further service in the West Indies.

AFRICA STATION

The escort vessel Londonderry, which is being transferred from the Red Sea to the Africa Station, has left Dar-es-Salaam, and next will visit Beira, Portuguese East Africa. She should arrive at Simonstown on May 2, to displace the Penance. The latter ship is already on her way home.

CANDIDATES FOR AIR GUNNER

The Lords of the Admiralty have decided that in future it will not be necessary for volunteers for the non-substantive rating of air gunner in the Fleet Air Arm to have completed two years' seagoing service, or in the case of signal and telegraphist ratings, to have qualified for the non-substantive rating of trained operator (visual signalling or wireless telegraphy). Volunteers must be of either leading or able seaman rate, and not more than 22 years of age at the date of volunteering. Special service ratings must be willing to transfer to continuous service, on being detailed for the air gunner's course.

THE ARMY

NEW MATRON-IN-CHIEF

Miss Catherine Murray Roy, who has become Matron-in-Chief, Queen Alexandra's Imperial Military Nursing Service, joined the service as a staff nurse in 1909.

She served in France and was mentioned in dispatches and awarded the French Medal for Epidemics, the Royal Red Cross, and the Military Medal. She has been Principal Matron at the War Office since 1934.

The retiring Matron-in-Chief, Miss Daisy Maud Martin, R.R.C., was specially advanced for outstanding service and became head of the service four years ago. She joined in 1931 from King's College Hospital.

THREE NEW COLONELS

Three lieutenant-colonels of the R.A.O.C. have been promoted to the rank of colonel.

R.A.F. EXPANSION TO START IMMEDIATELY

Aircraft Production To Be Doubled Within Two Years

London, May 1.
Further expansion of the Royal Air Force, which was recently predicted by the Prime Minister, has now been authorised and measures of acceleration and development in the aircraft industry additional equipment are to be put in hand immediately.

It is understood that plans prepared by the Air Ministry after consultation with the Society of British Aircraft Manufacturers and now approved by the Government will aim at doubling the production of aircraft within two years.

The Air Ministry has announced the personnel of the Supplies Committee of seven which is charged with the supervision of production under the chairmanship of Lord Winterton.

Members of the Winterton Committee will include Air Vice-Marshal W. L. Welsh, Air Member for Supply and Organisation, Air Marshal Sir Wilfred Freeman, Air Member for Research and Development, Air Vice-Marshal Peirse, Deputy Chief of the Air Staff, Mr. A. H. Self, Second Deputy Under-Secretary of the Air Ministry, Sir Charles Bruce Gardner, chairman of the Society of British Aircraft Manufacturers, and Mr. E. E. Bridges of the Treasury.

A statement on the new plans will be made in the House of Commons within the next fortnight. (British Wireless).

Iron Guards Interned

WILL BE KEPT IN CONCENTRATION CAMPS

Bucharest, April 30.
Sixty-eight members of the Fascist Iron Guard in Rumania have been interned for one year under the law for protection of the state, says an announcement by the Ministry of Interior last night.

The arrested men will be kept in three concentration camps at a convent near Bucharest, another convent in Bukovina and in a camp in west Sylvania.

The Fascist leader, M. Codreanu, is among those to be interned. (Transocean).

NO AMERICAN DEMARCHE

Berlin, April 30.
Reports which alleged that the United States Ambassador to Germany Mr. Hugh Wilson, made a demarche at the German Foreign Office in matter of compulsory registration of property belonging to foreign Jews, were denied by authoritative quarters here yesterday. (Transocean).

GRAND FILM AT MAJESTIC

A grand picture, positively tops in entertainment, and based on one of the finest adventure stories in literature, filled the screen at the Majestic Theatre last night, with the showing of the Gaumont production, "King Solomon's Mines."

Based on the Rider Haggard romance of the same name, a story read and loved by millions of people all over the world, "King Solomon's Mines" tells the story of an intrepid band of English adventurers, four men and a woman, who brave the jungles and desert and hostile Zulu warriors to find the lost mines of Ophir.

The war scenes are of breathtaking and awesome beauty, staged by thousands of real Zulu warriors in the heart of Zululand. The cast is a distinguished one, headed by such truly great players as Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Anna Lee, who supplies the romantic interest; John Loder, Anna Lee and Paul Robeson, who plays the giant Umbopa.

Robert Stevenson directed, adding to the laurels he won for his beautiful production of "Nine Days a Queen."

PALESTINE PARTITION UNPOPULAR

CAIRO STUDENTS HOLD SYMPATHY DEMONSTRATION

CAIRO, MAY 1.
AGITATION AGAINST THE BRITISH PLAN FOR THE PARTITION OF PALESTINE IS GAINING IN STRENGTH HERE.

Over 2,000 students of the famous El Azhar University organised a large-scale demonstration here yesterday in memory of Arabs killed in the course of disturbances in Palestine.

A mass meeting of Mussulman youth, which was held simultaneously, was addressed by a number of leading politicians and sheikhs. The press also publishes strongly-worded articles on the subject, some papers demanding that the Egyptian Government should take action in the matter.

According to reports reaching here, demonstrations occurred also on Friday and Saturday in Bagdad and Damascus. Numerous shops in both cities remained closed yesterday as a protest against the partition scheme. (Transocean).

Britain Bans Mexican Oil

London, May 1.
In a written reply to a question in the House of Commons on Friday, the Prime Minister, Mr. Neville Chamberlain, said that until a satisfactory settlement had been reached with the Mexican Government in regard to the seizure of British property in that country no Mexican oil would be allowed to be included in any government contract or purchase. PRINCE SEIF OF THE YEMEN IN COLONY

Delighted With Island's Beauty

His Royal Highness Prince Seif of the Yemen was a distinguished visitor to Hong Kong on Saturday. The Prince, accompanied by two ministers and Mr. E. Choukry, Egyptian Consul in Rome, arrived by the s.s. Conte Verde in the morning and continued his trip north in the afternoon.

"I am visiting Japan to inaugurate a Moslem mosque there," the Prince told a Daily Press representative who saw him on board. "My visit will last perhaps twenty days, after which I may pay a return visit to Hong Kong."

"I am delighted with your Colony, I drove to Repulse Bay this morning and afterwards to the Peak, and I must say the sights have been beautiful."

His Royal Highness paid a call on His Excellency the Governor soon after his arrival but could not accept the invitation to lunch because he had to return to his ship.

CHINESE PLANES VISIT SHANGHAI

Fly Over Jessfield And Hungjao

Hankow, April 30.
Three Chinese planes visited Shanghai and did extensive reconnaissance in the vicinity of Jessfield and along Chungshan and Hungjao Roads at 7.25 o'clock yesterday morning.

As soon as the Chinese planes were seen circling over the city, more than twenty Japanese pursuits went up to challenge the Chinese aircraft.

The Chinese planes returned to their base in safety shortly before eight o'clock. (Central News).

FIGHT FILM AT QUEEN'S

LOUIS MANN

A special attraction for fight fans will be screened at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres on Wednesday when the film of the Louis-Mann heavyweight championship fight will be shown. Although the contest lasted only three rounds, it is without doubt one of the most thrilling fights seen on the screen for some time. This film should be thoroughly enjoyed by all boxing enthusiasts.

Most of us who have seen them are enthusiastically in favour of the cocktail pyjamas designed for Irene Dunne by Columbia's fashion creator, Robert Kalloch. A unique feature of the design are very diminutive trains, in formal evening gown fashion.

CHINESE GALLANTRY AGAINST JAPANESE MECHANISED FORCES

Soldier Who Threw Hand-Grenade Into Approaching Tank

Several Chinese wounded soldiers who had been just brought back from the foremost war front were waiting at a railway station for a train, bound for Hsuehchow. Their feet were smeared with mud and their clothes stained with blood. Bandages wrapped round their arms had been soaked with blood which was seen trickling down.

In spite of their wounds their faces still all smiles and no signs of murmur were observed. They were chatting among themselves and it was heard that they did not like to proceed for medical treatment.

One of them, when asked who replied:

"We are waiting for a train bound for Hsuehchow, where we shall receive medical treatment. We have been told that if the hospitals at Hsuehchow are full, we may be sent farther to the rear. If that be the case, it will no doubt take us a longer time to return to the front after recovery. As a matter of fact, we prefer to stay here, but as our commanding officer ordered us to leave, we could not but obey."

"Yes, we have been wounded, but our wounds are not so serious in comparison with those of many of our comrades. At the time of fighting our enemy, though we were wounded, we refused to retire and continued to offer resistance with as much spirit as at the beginning. But owing to the persistence of our commanding officer we came to the rear. Further, as regards our superior commanders, they usually go to the very front to direct operations, and sometimes, although they have been wounded by enemy bullets, they still remain where they are, preferring to die on the spot rather than retire. They possess such a sacrificial spirit, and as we are common soldiers how much more should we try to give up our lives for the glory of our country!"

FOUGHT VERY WELL

"When the Japanese troops invaded Nantsekwang, an important pass in North Shanai," he continued, "we had already experience of fighting them there and later we were ordered to fight the invaders in east Shanai. Only a short time ago we were sent to the northern sector of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, where with our experience and under able command, we fought very well against the Japanese. We battled with them at Talerchwang, Linl, Tsaochuang, Yihshien and other neighbouring places."

"From several directions our men moved up closer and closer to the Japanese machine-gunners until finally our dare-to-die comrades dashed up and brandished their knives. The machine-guns of the enemy went out of action. It was estimated about 100 Japanese soldiers had been killed, in addition to some captured. Many

Battle Of Talerchwang Won Many Years Ago

The Chinese did not win the battle at Talerchwang on April 7 when, after a 16-day-long siege, they put the main body of the Japanese Itakagi divisions to rout. In fact, they won it long before the present war had even started.

For many years in the past, students in the Chinese War College picked Talerchwang as their favourite rendezvous in their field practices in southern Shantung. During these war games which were as a rule carefully planned and executed, they thoroughly familiarised themselves with the terrain around Talerchwang. For they had anticipated that some day the Japanese would try to come down south that way.

Many of these students, now all high-ranking commanders and general staff officers, participated in the battle of Talerchwang, and as proved by the Chinese victory they have made good use of all the knowledge and experience they had previously acquired in their student days' sham battles there.

The strategic importance of Talerchwang is self-evident on the map. It is situated on the northern bank of the Grand Canal along a short coal-transportation railway which branches off from the Tientsin-Pukow Line at Lincheng. About 30 kilometers towards its south is the Lunghai Railway.

Hsuehchow, the immediate objective of the recent Japanese operations in southern Shantung, is only about 40 kilometers southwest of Talerchwang. It is where the Tientsin-Pukow and Lunghai Railways meet at a right angle, and its capture is absolutely necessary before the Japanese could control the entire coastal area from Tientsin down to Shanghai.

JAPANESE PLAN

In pushing southward along the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, the

KUOMINTANG BANS CLIQUES

Hankow, April 30.
In his capacity as Tsung Tsai (General Executive) of the Kuomintang, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has issued an order to all Kuomintang members strictly forbidding them to form small Party. All small cliques within the cliques already formed should be dissolved. (Central News).

Generalissimo Chiang of our men were killed, but the number did not exceed a hundred. The capture of that place across the creek stirred us to even stronger resistance," he remarked.

VERY EFFECTIVE

"The operation of our mobile warfare is very effective," he went on to say. "The enemy's tanks and planes are unable to wrought havoc as desired, when a hand-to-hand fight occurs. Our men are all prepared to sacrifice their lives for their national cause, while the Japanese are usually not high and steady in morale, and so, under the circumstances, it is only expected that the Chinese will have by far the better chance of crushing the Japanese in a hand-to-hand combat."

"Besides, the numerical strength of the Chinese compared with that of the Japanese is usually in ratio of 2 to 1, and that is why the Chinese always prefer a close engagement, while the Japanese try to avoid it as far as possible. Yes, they try to avoid it, but in most cases they have been brought into such a position that they cannot but have to take up the gauntlet flung upon them by the Chinese mobile fighters."

DARING COMRADE

"I have a comrade by the name of Wang Chang-fah, who had accomplished a daring feat. One day as he witnessed a Japanese tank coming towards him, he hastily lay on the ground like a dead man. The tank driver took no notice of that. When the tank had come very close, my comrade jumped up and made for his objective. Before the Japanese had taken any effective action, Wang had already got up the tank and thrust in a hand-grenade. The occupants were all killed, and the tank was put out of use. Wang was wounded by shrapnel from the hand-grenade. He was removed to a hospital and I have been told that after some days of medical attention he is now on the way to a speedy recovery." PRINCE KONOYE COMING TO CHINA

Shanghai, May 1.

Prince Fumihiko Konoze, the Japanese Premier, will arrive here tomorrow en route to see conditions there on the spot. He seeks to pave the way for better co-operation between the Peiping regime and the Japanese commanders. (International News Service).

Prince Konoze

was often infested by bandits. So its inhabitants, most of them being financially substantial and physically sturdy peasants, raised enough money to build a strong wall around the town which this time proved a powerful unit in the Chinese defence.

The residents of Talerchwang had several thousand rifles among them. During the big battle, which did not come to an end until April 7 when the invaders beat a disorderly retreat, they helpfully co-operated with the regular Chinese troops, paying also gallant sacrifices in life and limb.

As a result of the hostilities, the once prosperous town of Talerchwang, with 80 per cent of its buildings razed to the ground, is no more. However, the name of Talerchwang will go down in Chinese history for all ages to come as the scene of one of the nation's most famous victories.

SAVING GRACE OF SHANGHAI

London, April 29.

The saving grace of Shanghai is its imperturbable spirit in adversity, writes Mr. Edwin Haward, former editor of the N. C. D. News in the new issue of Great Britain and The East.

The trouper's motto, "The show must go on," is nailed to a mast on the banks of the Whangpoo. Mr. Haward, in the first of a series of fortnightly articles "people behind the lines in China," and explains the Shanghai Municipal election.

He says that the Japanese are showing a readiness to co-operate in reducing political friction within the International Settlement to a minimum. The Settlement's governing body is mainly composed of men versed in Council affairs, and it is sedulously pursuing a path of peace, concentrating on the restoration of commercial relations and improving the plight of the citizens. Further articles will discuss problems and personalities involved in the Sino-Japanese conflict. (Reuter).

CHINESE PRESSING FORWARD ALONG YIHSHIEN-TANCHENG LINE

Hsuehchow, April 30.

Relentlessly giving chase to the Japanese troops after delivering a staggering blow at Tancheng, the Chinese forces are now locked in another grim struggle with the invaders in the vicinity of Matouchen five metres east of the recaptured ancient city.

Severe fighting along the entire front, which follows a zigzag pattern with the positions of the opposing forces interlocked at many places, continues to rage throughout this morning and afternoon. Little changes are claimed by both sides.

Japanese troops at Lieniangshan, kept under a continuous pounding away by Chinese heavy artillery, have shown signs of weakening and begun rear guard action preparatory to withdrawal towards the northwest.

Lieniangshan, it will be remembered, was only lost to the invaders after a whole Chinese regiment, under the command of the late Colonel Kao Peng, was wiped out to the last man by combined Japanese artillery, air and infantry forces.

Further to the northwest in the vicinity of Yihshien, the Chinese troops in the neighbourhood of Talerchwang are cautiously pressing forward. Mopping up of Japanese troops is now proceeding. Hoshan and Chiaoshan, two salient points along the Japanese line, have been recaptured by the Chinese forces and are cleared of invaders. (Central News).

JAPANESE THRUST ON KAOYU, PRECIPITATED

Hsuehchow, April 30.

The Japanese forces at Shaopu, north of the Yangtze, near the Kiangsu-Anhui border have been increased to over 1,000 men recently.

Advancing along the Grand Canal, the invaders are believed to be attempting a thrust on Kaoyu, thirty kilometres further north. (Central News).

Brilliant Naval Wedding At St. John's Cathedral

A wedding which aroused much interest was celebrated at St. John's Cathedral last Saturday afternoon, when Miss Paulina Tatiana Wood was married to Lieutenant George Jameson Cardew R.N. of H.M.S. Eagle.

The bride is the elder daughter of Lady Wood, and the famous Conductor, Sir Henry Wood, of "Appletree Farm" Chorley Wood, Herts, whose wonderful Queen's Hall Promenade Concerts and memorable "Wagner-Nights" are the pride of every musical Londoner, since they started a new era in the history of English music.

The bridegroom is the elder son of Dr. and Mrs. Henry Cardew, of "Shire House" Chorley Wood, Herts.

The Cathedral was delightfully decorated with mauve and blue larkspur, and white lilies massed at the chancel, while delicate sprays of shaded larkspur adorned every pew. The ceremony was very beautiful and impressive and was performed by the Reverend J. L. Wilson, Dean of the Cathedral, assisted by the Reverend J. Price, Padre of H.M.S. Eagle.

Lady Wood gave her daughter away, having come here from England for the wedding, and the bride looked extremely lovely as she came up the aisle alone, attended only by her four bridesmaids clad in dresses of snow-white chiffon.

SNOW-WHITE VEIL

The robe worn by the bride was an exquisite creation of stiff white, figured silk, lined with the palest yellow satin. It had long close-fitting sleeves, and a draped bodice, which was drawn over the shoulders, and joined the long train, which fell from the waist. A very long veil of snow-white tulle was held by a narrow fillet of orange blossoms, and she carried a sheaf of white lilies.

Her four attendants were her sister, Miss Avril Wood, Miss Hope Turnbull, Miss Joan Armstrong, and Miss Margaret Middleton-Smith, who looked very pretty in their flowing gowns of white chiffon with short puffed sleeves, and close-fitting velvet caps which had wide transparent halos. They carried posies of white flowers. It was, in fact, a "white wedding" and the effect of these five lovely girls all in white was indescribably charming.

The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in dark blue figured georgette, with a coat of the same material, and a wide picture-hat of dark blue.

ARCHWAY OF SWORDS

Brother officers of the bridegroom made an archway of swords, under which the happy couple passed on leaving the Cathedral. A reception held afterwards at the Hong Kong Hotel Roof Garden was largely attended.

The toast to Bride and Groom was given by Captain Moody, of H.M.S. Eagle, who in a short but very happy little speech said that it gave him the "very greatest pleasure to welcome the third bride of the year to H.M.S. Eagle, and that at the same time he wished to point out that there are still quite a number of eligible young officers left." Amid much laughter he then proposed the health of the bride and bridegroom.

Lieut. Cardew made a very witty and amusing reply, in which he remarked that ever since the day he got engaged he had been living in dread of the moment when he would have to get up and make this speech. One of his friends endeavored to help him by sending along a book on the subject with illustrations by Heath Robinson (laughter) which wasn't the least use! He also remembered seeing a play called "Sweethearts and Wives" in which there was a cynical statement that sweethearts were a necessity, but wives a quite unnecessary luxury. He now realized that the man who made such an observation must be an absolute fool, and was quite sure all his friends would agree that this suggestion should most definitely be reversed. For her going-away dress Mrs. Cardew wore a most attractive costume of white and blue patterned organdie, with matching accessories.—Acwo.

THE WEEK IN MACAO

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT)

Macao, May 1.
The many Hong Kong friends of Mr. Mario A. de Barros Pereira will be pleased to hear that his nomination as Treasurer of the Macao Municipal Council has been confirmed by the Government. For the past three years Mr. Pereira has filled the post of Acting Treasurer.

Floodlight

To the many improvements carried out by the Macao Public Works Department will be added the scheme to floodlight the Great War Memorial in the San Miguel Hospital. A decision was reached last week, and the plan also includes the illumination of one or two other monuments.

Procession

High Mass was conducted by His Lordship the Bishop of Macao, the Most Rev. D. Jose da Costa Nunes, in the San Lourenco Church last Monday to commemorate the feast of Our Lady of Remedies. A religious procession, followed by a benediction in the San Lourenco Church, was held in the evening, which was attended by large crowds of the faithful.

Fire-Eater

An added attraction at the Grand Central cabaret last week was the clever programme of fire-eating and other illusions presented by the Cantonese magician, Wu Chong-hon. Winner of a gold medal in a recent magic contest, Mr. Wu toured Soerabaya, Singapore and Shanghai before coming here.

Alumni Dance

An alumni dance followed the glee singing staged by students of the Liceu Infante D. Henrique last Saturday, which was attended by many present and past scholars and guests. The choir, which gave an able performance, was under the direction of Mme. Carvalho e Rego.

Station CYR9

Formerly station CQN, Macao's radio station will begin operations tomorrow, under its new call sign, CYR9. The station has been idle for some months while undergoing alterations and although it will still continue as an experimental station it bids fair to rival other stations in the Orient for the excellence of its programmes. CYR9 will go on the air once a week (49-50 metres, 6000-6120 K.C.).

Transfer

Transferred to new appointment at Shanghai, Mr. N. Lee of the Chinese Maritime Customs will soon be leaving Macao. Mr. Lee is one of the many Customs officers popular with local residents.

Bela Vista

Among the many Hong Kong week-enders making advance reservations at Macao's foreign-managed Bela Vista Hotel was Mr. Raymond, well-known Hong Kong Stock Exchange broker. Wisely avoiding the rush for accommodation, Mr. Raymond is attending the meeting of the Macao Race Club, chief attraction of which is the Governor's Cup, presented by H. E. the Governor of Macao, Dr. Artur Tamagnini Barbosa.

Billiards

A billiards match between the Fantasma and the Veterano was witnessed at the Aurora Portuguese last Thursday when the latter gained an easy victory over their opponents. Players were: FANTASMA: F. E. Rodrigues, H. C. Braga, O. dos Santos, J. M. Guerreiro, M. M. Jesus, F. M. Rodrigues. VETERANO: F. P. da Silva, A. Remedios, L. Silva, F. Noronha, E. Rosa, A. H. Mello.

Appointment

Among last week's appointments gazetted in the Government Bulletin, Dr. Cassiano de Castro Fonseca was confirmed as a teacher at the Liceu Infante D. Henrique. Recently returned from Portugal, Dr. Cassiano Fonseca is one of the youngest medical practitioners in the Colony.

Porcelain Art

Of interest to art collectors is a book on Chinese porcelain marks recently published here. With detailed information giving the dates of the marks and the Emperor then reigning, this valuable book is the work of Mr. Leopoldo Danilo Barreira.

CORRESPONDENCE

TRIBUTE TO DR. HO

(To the Editor, H. K. Daily Press)
Sir,—May I ask a little space in your columns to express a personal appreciation of the late Dr. S. C. Ho, whose passing yesterday is widely regretted.

One of the most remarkable points about Dr. Ho was his truly great personality. As a doctor, he frequently cured by suggestion than by the use of medicine. His warm smile, his capacity of encouragement and his infinite humanity often made those who went to consult him feel well immediately they were in his presence. In this, he was closely akin to the late Dr. Dalmahoy Allen, who was also well-beloved by all.

The poor and distressed of the Colony will greatly lament his passing. Dr. Ho not only gave them the benefit of his professional advice free of charge (he often provided them with medicine and even the tonics and special foods which they would require during their convalescence), he was their friend, and often they sought his advice on many personal matters. His humanitarian work was well-known, but Dr. Ho never talked about it. Believing that service was the ideal, he devoted a great deal of his time to quiet charity for which his reward is the undying gratitude and genuine affection of those whom he benefited.

I feel that no words could be sufficient tribute to such a great man. His friends will never forget his worth.

FORMER PATIENT.
Hong Kong, April 29.

EMPEROR'S HEALTH

(To the Editor, "The Hong Kong Daily Press")

On the occasion of the Japanese Emperor's birthday, Mr. Nakamura, the local Japanese Consul-General said, inter alia, that he was glad to inform his guests that the Emperor's health was excellent.

I wonder how many of the Consul-General's guests saw the joke: for it is an open secret that the Emperor is a person of extremely delicate health since he was a child and that since the Emperor is looked upon by his people as the "Son of Heaven" the most eminent Japanese physicians would not dare to give a definite diagnosis of His Imperial Majesty's ailment.

Furthermore, disappointment in his soldiers' slow programme in China and fear of a revolution and economic disaster in Japan should the Japanese adventure fail in China have considerably weakened the already weak health of the Emperor as well as that of Prince Konoye.

Yours, etc.,
K. M. WONG.

WEEKLY MUSICAL REVIEW

By "Allegro Moderato"

We note with much pleasure that there are people taking an interest in our column, as shown by the two letters which were written to this paper during the course of last week. We thank Mr. Harvey and "Music Teacher" for their interest, and welcome more letters of this type.

Last Sunday night was a very busy one. At 8.03 we heard the broadcast of the Choir of St. Joseph's with the Very Reverend Father Riganti at the organ. They were not up to their usual standard; perhaps they had too much to do during the week before, with their Good Friday broadcast and all the Easter Services. Their last number, the "Hymn of Glory" by Perosi, was lacking in blending.

It was a refreshing experience to listen to the Little Flower Choir during the Epilogue, in which Father Ryan spoke of "Doubt." They offered two short pieces of not more than five minutes' duration.

It is rather admirable that they had come all the way from Kowloon Tong to sing only for five minutes. One could not very well say that there is a lack of music lovers here, perhaps what we need is a force that would unite all these music-loving people. At the present moment each group seems entirely absorbed in their own work. Music is universal, we must remember. Arturo Toscanini presented Wagner in Italy during the Great War.

We just managed to catch the second part of the Orchestral Concert given by the 2nd Battalion of the Royal Scots. Considering they had no singers to relieve the instruments, the effect was rather surprising and altogether pleasing. Credit should be given to the conductor for the excellent training which he had given his men. Seldom do we hear military bandmen play as would orchestral musicians. The balance was almost perfect. The strings were not particularly strong, but were faultless.

Last Tuesday, we heard Professor Pellegatti and Mr. Lindsay Lafford doing the Lalo Concerto. Prof. Pellegatti has flawless technique, a beautiful cava, good interpretation and expression and general good musicianship. The Lalo is a very hard task and 'cellist' and Pianist came quite up to expectations. Of the three movements the first was, technically speaking the best, but it was a little cold. Perhaps the player was either tired or nervous. The second and third movements, though not so fluent as the first, were played with much more life and we enjoyed them more. The pianist was quite 'en rapport' with the 'cellist', but he was a little heavy or was it that the latter was too far away from the microphone. Anyway, in the second movement (the first Allegro Presto marked 'ppp') the piano was too loud. But this was a very small fault in a score full of difficulties and played magnificently. Our impression was that the tempi were slightly wrong, but will reserve our opinion when these two will do us the honour of repeating the Lalo. It is hardly worth while to practice such a difficult and intricate piece of work only to play it once.

Miss Donaldson sang with a pleasing voice the other night as a mezzo, her low notes are inclined to be weak.

The Reverend Sargent has decided to make his school music conscious. That is a commendable thing, especially as there are such a number of young Chinese lads who would be eager followers. For the benefit of the School, Reverend Sargent has invited Prof. Pellegatti to give an illustrated lecture on the "Story of the Cello." For his illustration Prof. Pellegatti chose the Tarantelle by Popper, and Lindsay Lafford supported at the piano.

ROYAL BIRTHDAY

Today is the 88th birthday of His Royal Highness Field Marshall the Duke of Connaught, K.G., son of the late Queen Victoria. In 1879 he married Princess Louise Margaret Alexandra Victoria, daughter of Prince Frederick Charles of Prussia. She died in 1914.

Amongst those who left the Colony on Saturday by the s.s. Rawalpindi was Mrs. B. J. Lafford who is proceeding on long leave.

Elizabeth
Arden

Dark tans are definitely out of favour. In their place, Elizabeth Arden sponsors the new Sun Beige colouring—a clear golden shade that is wonderfully becoming. Enjoy the summer—life on the ocean wave or by the sea shore—equipped with preparations that will enable you to acquire this fashionable new complexion in the simplest possible way.

Ardena Protecta Cream guards against freckles and the painful effects of sunburn, and it does not come off in water. Lille de France is the perfect new powder foundation affording mild protection.

Ardena Sun-Proof Cream prevents burning but permits tanning, an excellent powder foundation.

Velva Beauty Film gives arms, legs and back a simulated sun-tan.

THE PRE-SCHOOL MIND

ONE OF THE discoveries of the twentieth century is the child-mind. In the good old days children did not have minds. They possessed convenient physical areas which could be beaten with straps, tongues which were supposed not to wag, and stomachs into which castor oil was deposited as the panacea for all childish ills.

Their appearances in the adult world, where mind had a place, were rare and unobtrusive. Their role was to be seen and not heard. Perhaps this was, in part, an inevitable parental defence in the face of large families. The Father of Ten had to be stern, if he wanted a moment's peace.

Thus children "grew up", and were allowed to have minds of their own at some undetermined stage of their adolescence.

The twentieth century, however, discovered that the baby in arms has a mind and personality of its own. Dr. Freud and other energetic explorers have dug out even of the infant mind mysterious complexes, fears, loves and hates; and conditioning the child mind has become a specialised job.

AT THE SAME time, a passion for physical fitness and an insatiable curiosity about vitamins have, in the infant field, developed mother-craft to a degree which would make our grandmothers smile with disdain and carry on about fads and cranks.

This joint interest in the mind and body of the child has expressed itself in many ways, one of the latest developments AND being the establishment of BODY nurseries.

For some years those interested in child welfare had been content with the baby health centre and the kindergarten; but the keenest of the reformers noticed an educational gap between the baby health centre and the kindergarten—a gap of perhaps two or three years.

That has been filled by the nursery school which bridges the gap between babyhood and childhood.

It would be well if the developments referred to in the preceding paragraphs had reference to Hong Kong, but unfortunately this Colony is sadly lacking in organisations and institutions devoted to the care of children in the pre-school period.

The facts on which this article is based were culled from reports of child welfare activities in Europe

DESPICABLE METHODS OF WAR

HONG KONG, MAY 1.

"The Japanese troops are going on from success to success, gaining fresh victories each day and the Chiang Kai-shek regime will soon be completely overthrown. The Chinese are beginning to see the folly of resisting the Japanese invasion, knowing as they now do that it is prompted by nothing but sheer goodwill."

The above is not our opinion. It represents the type of news that is being served up daily to the masses in Japan—served up to them in the hope that it will have the effect of quietening the growing unrest in that unhappy country.

But simple as they have been, the civilian population of Japan have at long last realised all that their war lords say must not be taken as the gospel truth, for did not these same war lords promise to wipe out the whole of China before Christmas 1937? Did they not promise those who helped to launch the campaign financially, a quick return for their "investments"? And what have they proved to be but empty promises?

One does not necessarily have to be a genius to see through this now familiar game of Japanese bluff. Carried away by a false sense of their own strength, the militarists of Japan at the outset really thought they could do as they liked in China; that they only had to send a handful of troops to North China and the people would be so completely demoralised that in a matter of weeks a new Japanese Empire would be set up.

They erred gravely and it did not take them long to find out their mistake. Instead of "cutting losses" they preferred to go on with the war regardless of the cost to the country or how many innocent peasants and labourers were sent to their death, for it was not long before the Japanese High Command had to draw on the civilian strength of the country.

Aided by superior weapons of war and also their navy as far as the ships could go up the Yangtze, the Japanese scored a few successes. They finally reached Nanking but while they felt that this was the crowning point of the campaign, the Chinese, under the leadership of Generalissimo Chiang, knew otherwise. They were merely withdrawing strategically—to draw the invaders so far inland that they would find themselves in a hopeless plight.

And they have succeeded in this, as borne out by news of the war that is received in the Colony every day.

Now that the Japanese Navy is excluded from the major war operations, due to the fact that the ships cannot go so far up river, it has turned its hand to a more despicable job than bombing defenceless cities. It is giving its full attention to the Chinese fishing junks—vessels that are, at most, a few tens of feet in length and without any means of defence except for perhaps a single muzzle loading cannon—the type that was up-to-date about 100 years ago!

What chance has a vessel of this type against an armed motor boat let alone a modern Japanese destroyer? But the gallant Japanese do not look at it in this light. They only want to ram and sink as many junks as possible, sending not only men and women but children, including newly-born babes in some cases, to a watery grave.

We hear of these outrages daily. As reports of the ruthless methods employed by the Japanese Navy—and we take it that they must have the approval of the Admiralty in Tokyo—they confirm the world opinion that like the other two sections of their fighting forces, the Japanese Navy has no scruples. It aims only to destroy—and from the look of things it makes a specialty of seeking those who cannot strike back. Gallant people, these Japanese. Banzai!

WEDDING BELLS

ROCHA-XAVIER

The Church of The Precious Blood, was gallily decorated with flowers yesterday afternoon on the occasion of the marriage between Mr. Antonio L. Rocha and Miss Angelina Xavier.

The bride is the daughter of the late Captain and Mrs. Francis Xavier and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. Rufino L. Rocha, retired, formerly of the Hong Kong Harbour Department, and the late Mrs. Rocha.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. A. Xavier and the duties of best men were performed by Mr. Percy Tomchoy and Mr. V. Marques. The bridesmaids were Miss Doris Rocha, and Miss Elsie Xavier.

The Rev. Fr. Liberator officiated. After the ceremony, a reception was held in the residence of Mr. A. Xavier, where many friends gathered to offer their felicitations.

MR. C.H. BUTTERFIELD MARRIED

The marriage took place recently in the Lady Chapel, Brompton Oratory, of Mr. Charles Harris Butterfield, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Butterfield, lately of Hong Kong, and Miss Monica Harrison, younger daughter of the late Mr. Austin Harrison and of Mrs. Harrison, of 25, Fitzjohn's Avenue, Hampstead. Father John Talbot officiated.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. E. Austin Harrison, and Mr. Henry W. Butterfield was best man to his brother.

The honeymoon will be spent in Paris.

that children are insensitive and easily reconciled to adult values has no sanction in an age which does know something about the strange workings of an infant mind; which knows, too, that the brain of a small child is a mirror that quickly records enduring impressions.

The object of child-welfare institutions such as kindergartens and nursery schools is to protect that reflecting mirror from distorted images, to keep it bright, and capable of recording valuable and constructive impressions.

SHAI RELIEF WORKERS VISIT HONG KONG

Entertained By Chinese Medical Association

Dr. John Earl Baker, Director of the Shanghai International Red Cross, Mr. C. R. Bennett, treasurer, and Mr. C. H. Lowe, secretary of the publicity committee of the same organisation, who paid a brief visit to the Colony, returned to the northern port by the S. S. Conte Verde on Saturday.

The two first-named were here primarily for the annual meeting of the China Foundation, and made use of the opportunity of exploring the situation in Hong Kong in connection with raising funds locally for refugee relief in Shanghai, and exchanging views with leaders in war relief work for its co-ordination on a national basis.

Of the hundreds of thousands of homeless refugees in Shanghai, the Shanghai International Red Cross is handling no less than 105,000, who are housed in several locations. The cost of feeding these refugees was $2.75 per capita, per month, but it has now been reduced to $1.80, and it is hoped to effect a further cut to $1.50 in the near future without omitting the essential elements of nutrition.

SITUATION AGGRAVATED
The refugees go about looking for work and many have succeeded in finding employment to maintain themselves and their families. The situation has become more aggravated recently with hostilities returning to the outskirts of Shanghai, and it is estimated that the refugee population in the Settlement alone has increased by several hundred thousand.

An important function of the International Red Cross is the locating of relatives and friends of refugees who have become separated from their families. This organisation has restored contact between hundreds of people by a system of registration, the particulars of which are broadcast among the refugees in the various camps.

VISITORS ENTERTAINED
Dr. Li Shu-pul, representing the medical Relief Committee of the Hong Kong Medical Association, presided at a dinner at the Chinese Merchants' Club on Friday night to enable the officials of local organizations to meet the visitors.

Among those present were Mr. Li Shu-pul, Dr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Woo, Dr. and Mrs. T. Y. Li, Mrs. Rose Tan, Mrs. Y. K. Chow, Miss Violet Chan, Mrs. Liu Chi-wen, Miss Yung of Shanghai, Mrs. Luk Oi-wan, Miss Christine Young, Mr. William Yinson Lee, Mr. Wei Tat, Dr. F. I. Tseng, Dr. S. N. Chau, Dr. C. Y. Wu, Professor W. I. Gerrard, Mr. Kan Man, Dr. J. H. Montgomery, Dr. Edward Sun, Dr. K. D. Ling, Dr. Y. T. Liu, Dr. So Sum-yu, Dr. Chau Wah-cheung and others.

Sufficient for the maintenance of 1,800 refugees for one month, a bank draft for U. S. $1,000, was handed to Dr. Baker by Mr. William Yinson Lee. The sum represents the proceeds of a Chinese entertainment in Hollywood, recently organised by Princess Der Ling and Mr. James Zee-min Lee in aid of refugees and other war sufferers.

A further amount is being raised by a Chinese dramatic performance scheduled for June next by the same group.

INDIA'S FINE WIN

International Hockey Tournament

A big crowd of hockey enthusiasts saw India defeat Portugal by four to one in the International Hockey Tournament. There were several changes in the Indian team, Lt. Sawal Khan playing at right wing.

In the first half, G. Singh, scored one for the Indians, whilst Souza equalized for the Portuguese in a penalty-bully.

The second half saw some fast play, G. Singh scoring another goal, followed by a goal each by Partab and Pyara Singh.

The teams were:—
PORTUGAL:—B. Alves; Z. Gosano and A. M. Rodrigues; R. Marques, J. Goncalves and T. Alves; A. V. Gosano, E. L. Gosano, A. P. Souza, N. Beltrao and L. G. Gosano.
INDIA:—M. Ramzan; Tirlok Singh and Kishan Singh; M. H. Hassan, Ghulam Rasul, and M. R. Malik; Lt. Sawal Khan, G. Singh, Pyara Singh, Partab Singh, and Naraina Ram.

IF GOSSIP WE MUST

(BY PRUDENCE)

Those two enterprising and energetic young ladies, Barbara Lord and Joan Old, deserve the very highest praise for the successful Gymkhana they organised at the Kowloon Riding School last Saturday afternoon.

I arrived amid a stream of cars bringing parents, friends, and young competitors to the scene. The pavilion verandah was already crowded with onlookers, who watched the bustle of preparation going on. Children in smart riding-kit, little girls with becoming velvet caps pulled well down over their curls, Barbara Lord, very trim in Khaki Jodhpurs and a green shirt, and Joan Old most attractive in white, while the outer ring was full of ponies with their attendant matrons, all busy with stirrup, bridle and what-not.

The fact that the School has such a big tract of level ground, with ample space for an inner and outer ring is one of the biggest advantages possible, and makes displays such as the Gymkhana easy to arrange, and pleasant for the spectators.

Two of the ponies were due at Macao for the races on the following day so a slight alteration was made in the programme to enable them to be got away in time for the boat, and the Handy Hunters Display came first, and was won in easy style by Lt. Godby.

BARBACK RIDING

Second on the programme was the Barback-riding, in which little Mickey Behara did very well indeed to get a first, with Patrick Moss a very close second, and Adrienne Richardson as a good third.

Then came the Riding Competition. (For five years under and open) which was won by Brian McEneaney with Shapur Kharegat second.

The Trotting Race is always particularly interesting, and spectators were pleased when Miss C. Lomax was awarded first prize and Shapur Kharegat was successful in getting in second.

The Marketing Race was great fun, only marred by the fact that Mary Smalley had a small spot of "grief" and sustained a "light cut" on the brow, when unseated in the scramble. This event was won by P. Randolph, with R. Holden second, and Mickey Behara third.

Musical Chairs went very well too, and the winner, Florence McKelvie got a lot of applause, while Reggie Holden had several near shaves in his successful efforts to secure second place.

The Novelty Race provided a lot of amusement, as the competitors had to race to a given point, where they donned fancy dress, after which they had to circle the ring twice, before reaching the winning post. Coralle Burrows made a very sporting effort, and pluckily remounted after coming to grief when her mount took the wrong turning, and she did splendidly to come in second. P. Randolph was an easy first.

THE TINY TOTS

It was delightful to see the enthusiasm of the Tiny Tots, who looked adorable on their diminutive mounts, and it was amusing to note how each one had a favourite pony, which he or she schemed to secure. The bigger children had the same idea too. June Moss, I know, likes "Lucky" and her brother Patrick has a weakness for "Misty".... "Play Day" is another favourite and tiny Andrew Sinton informed me that he hoped to be riding "Red Letter".

The Judges were Mr. T. H. Brayfield, Mr. G. Frost, and Sergt. Christie, and the prizes were given away by Mrs. Deacon. In a charming little speech she said that in spite of a few set-backs, such as the damage done by the big typhoon she was happy to see the riding school in such a flourishing condition, and she offered her heartiest congratulations to Miss Lord and Miss Old for all the excellent work they had put in; there, in order to make the enterprise such a success. Three cheers and a tiger were then given with much enthusiasm.

The youngest pupil of the riding school had the honour of presenting a bouquet to Mrs. Deacon, and very nicely he did it.

"MICKIE" FOR MINNIE
By the way, a very interesting new arrival has come to the Kowloon Riding School, in the shape of a foal to the small mare "Minnie Mouse." Needless to say, it will be given the name of "Mickie Mouse."

Wait Disney please note!

SOUTH CHINA "B" WINS SENIOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Chan Tak-fai Scores Twice To Beat Royal Scots

South China "B" concluded its Club's clean sweep of local football honours when it won the first division league championship by beating the Royal Scots by two goals to one on Saturday.

They had chiefly to thank Chan Tak-fai for their narrow win, as he netted both goals for them.

The Junior Interport Trial was rather a disappointing affair, there being little play of a high or attractive standard. The Possibles beat the Probables 2-1.

Kowloon Schools, for whom Kaan Wah-tuen (who shot both goals) and the two younger Gosanos performed very well, beat Hong Kong Schools two-nil in their annual charity match.

SENIOR SHIELD FINAL

SOUTH CHINA "A" RETAIN TROPHY

BEAT S. CHINA "B"

South China "A" won the Senior Shield final for the third year in succession when they met and defeated South China "B" on the Club ground at Happy Valley yesterday. The score was three goals to nil.

Throughout the "A" team showed their superiority in combination over their opponents who were erratic. The "A" had the better of the exchanges though at times "B" were pressing consistently. Soon after the kick-off, Chan Tak-fai, "B" centre-forward, but was injured after fifteen minutes he returned to the field.

During the first twenty minutes of play, no score was registered. There was good goal-keeping on the part of Tam Kwan-kin, who was tested time and again by Lai Shiu-wing and Fung King-cheung. The "A" team's first goal came when Lai Shiu-wing scored as the result of a fine movement from the right wing when Fung King-cheung received the ball and passed to Lai who made no mistake.

The "A" team's first goal came when Lai Shiu-wing scored as the result of a fine movement from the right wing when Fung King-cheung received the ball and passed to Lai who made no mistake.

Soon after, Fung had tested Tam with a fine drive which Tam just managed to save. From the resultant goal-kick into midfield, Fung took the ball down and passed to Lai Shiu-wing who netted with a well-timed drive.

In the second half the "A" team had matters much their own way and were constantly pressing. It was in this period that the "A" team displayed fine passing movements. The "B" team looked like scoring on one occasion but Lee Tin-sang cleared.

Lai Shiu-wing completed his "hat-trick" when he dribbled right up to the goalmouth beating Tam Kwan-kin in an effort to save. After the match the Shield was presented by Mrs. W. Pryde, wife of the Chairman of the Hong Kong Football Association.

Mr. Goss refereed, and the teams were:

a good account of himself and at least go down fighting.

All in all it should be a very good game and I think that those (if there are any such ill-advised people) who have decided that the match will be too one-sided to be worth the investment of a dollar, will be making a bad mistake. It has become an axiom in the past eight years or so that neither of the Rumsdells is beaten till the last stroke is played and run on. If H. D. lives up to this on Tuesday the crowd will be given full value for their money.

Good Riding Witnessed At Kowloon School Gymkhana

The Kowloon Riding School held a Gymkhana for both young and old competitors on Saturday. The weather was perfect, although inclined to be warm, but this did not deter competitors and spectators, who turned up in large numbers.

There were altogether seven events, starting with the Handy Hunters, which was won by Lt. Godby R.A., riding Glenshee. Mrs. Richardson and Caroline Lomax also rode very well.

This was followed by Bareback Riding, Mickey Berah coming first on Royal. This event attracted a large number of children.

An event popular among the spectators was the Riding Competition for Children under five years. Brian McElroy rode to win on Lucky Day.

Some good riding was witnessed in the next race, the Trotting Race, which was won by Miss Caroline Lomax, riding Glenshee. Shapur Kharegat rode well to gain second place.

The riding reached a very high standard, far in advance of that seen at the last gymkhana, which goes to prove the abilities of the Misses Barbara Lord and Joan Old, who both take the keenest personal interest in each and every one of their pupils, many of whom are under five years of age. The Novelty Races, of which there were quite a few, started with the Marketing Race. Peter Randolph gaining first place and R. Holden, a close second. This race caused much amusement among those who were watching.

MUSICAL CHAIRS.
 The Musical Chairs, always a box-office draw, saw a very close finish between Reggie Holden and Miss Florence McKelvie, and the latter scrambled home with inches to spare in a somewhat doubtful posture. The afternoon was rendered very pleasant by Mrs. Frost at the piano, and we can see by the

CRAIGENGOWER BEGIN BOWLS SEASON WELL

Beat Recreio On Their Green By Eight Shots

The chief feature of the opening on Saturday of the local Lawn Bowls season was the win by eight shots scored by Craigengower Cricket Club in their away match against Club de Recreio. Last year Recreio snatched the Shield from the Valleyites when the latter were within grasp of it and Craigengower's win, when conceding ground advantage, augurs well for their prospects.

The Gymkhana was rounded off with a very amusing Novelty Race in which competitors had to dress up in some of the most incongruous clothes that Kowloon had ever seen. Peter Randolph completed a double by winning this race.

Mrs. Deacon, very graciously consented to present the prizes, after which little Andrew Sinton presented her a bouquet of roses. Mr. Brayfield and Mr. Christie acted as judges.

Lawn Tennis KHO CAUSES 'UPSET'

BEATS H.W. AUSTIN IN FINAL

Bournemouth, April 30. Kho Sin-kia, China's leading Davis Cup player, caused a sensation here today when he defeated H. W. "Bunny" Austin, No. 1 ranking British player, by 3-4, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. In the final of the British Hard Courts Tennis Championship.

It will be recalled that Kho had a peculiar match in the quarter finals when he conceded the first two sets to his compatriot, W. C. Choy, only to win the next three sets for the loss of only one game.

He beat Nigel Sharpe in the semi-final while Austin eliminated the Frenchman, Petra.

WOMEN'S FINAL
 In the women's final Miss Scriven beat Miss Wynne (Australia) by 7-5, 6-2.—(Reuters).

BRADMAN IN FORM

BIG INNINGS AT WORCESTER

London, April 30. Don Bradman, captain of the Australian cricket team now touring England, showed brilliant form today in their match against Worcester when he scored 258 and was still undefeated when stumps were drawn for the day. The Australians had, up till then, amassed the useful total of 474 for 8.

Get rid of Disfiguring
Blemishes
this Easy Way

Nothing can be more distracting to a woman than ugly pimples, burning irritations, or patches of blackheads or enlarged pores on the face or neck. Some resort to heavy powdering in an effort to hide them; whilst others cause the skin to become muddy-looking, coarse and blemished by using the wrong treatment.

To make your skin clear and healthy, to cleanse, clogged facial pores, remove blackheads and pimples and to make your complexion clearer and smoother, use Cuticura.

Cleanse the skin with Cuticura Soap twice a day. Its luxuriant and mildly antiseptic lather is soothing and softening; washes away pore-deep dirt which causes blackheads, enlarged pores, and ugly complexion defects.

To rid the skin of pimples, skin outbreaks, rashes or irritations use Cuticura Ointment direct on the affected part before washing with the soap. Its antiseptic action kills germs, soothes and heals and quickly clears the skin.

PRESTON WINS CUP IN LAST MINUTE

Penalty Goal During Extra Time

London, April 30.
Preston North End, generally regarded as the best team of the year, won the F.A. Cup today after one of the most exciting finals for many years.
Nearly two hours of play were necessary before Preston's crack forward line could penetrate the Huddersfield goal, and then the point was secured from a penalty kick in the last 30 seconds. Mutch having been brought down when clean through.
Victory by a penalty was peculiarly ironical, because in 1922 at Stamford Bridge, when Huddersfield and Preston were again rivals in an F.A. Cup final Huddersfield secured their triumph by a solitary goal, also from a penalty, much disputed.
With many regarding the match as a walkover for Preston, the atmosphere was strangely subdued for a Cup Final.
The teams lined up as follows:
HUDDERSFIELD: Hesford; Craig, Mountford; Willingham, Young; Boot; Hulme, Isaac, MacFayden, Barclay and Beasley.
PRESTON: Holdcroft; Gallimore, A. Beattie; Shankly, Smith, Bates; Watmough, Mutch, Maxwell, R. Beattie and O'Donnell.
Military and naval bands led community singing.
The King and Queen were given an enthusiastic reception. The King walked onto the field and shook hands with the players. Preston won the toss and took advantage of the wind. They attacked at the start, and then Huddersfield forced the pace but their attacks had little method and the cool Preston backs prevented any shot at goal.
Once, however, Hulme, the Town's right wing, in a lone dash, beat three men before centring too squarely.
Isaac, the Town's inside right, took the ball the length of the field but the wind carried back his centre.
During another Hulme raid, Preston appealed for offside, and only saved a goal by a panic kick back by the whole defence.
NEAT TOUCHES
Preston's forwards showed neat touches, but Willingham and Young, the Town halves, tackled well.
When R. Beattie, Preston inside-left, was brought down outside the penalty area the free kick was placed splendidly across the goal, but Watmough, at outside right, shot behind.
He said he was happy to announce that Kellie Island had been secured for the Club, subject of course, to the approval of the general meeting on May 4. (Applause).
CLUBHOUSE OPENED
After the presentations had been made Mrs. Croucher received three hearty cheers.
Immediately after this, the gathering proceeded up the hill to the new clubhouse where the opening ceremony was performed, after which Mr. Cock thanked Mrs. Shields, at the same time mentioning that credit was also due to Mr. Shields for his valuable activities in the club.
Mr. Cock added that a word of thanks was also due to Mr. J. E. Potter, who designed the building of the new clubhouse.
Amongst those present were: Mr. E. Cock, Commodore of the Yacht Club; Mr. H. S. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Shields, Mr. and Mrs. N. V. A. Croucher, Mr. P. C. M. Sedgwick, Mr. H. W. M. Duley, Mr. G. O. Wood, Mr. C. Trenchard Davis, Mr. R. J. Minnitt (Hon. Secretary), Mr. B. S. Carter, Mr. W. Sporleder, Lt.-Col. C. H. Geake, Mr. J. R. L. Stanton and many others.
The season's prize-winners were as follows:—

OPENING OF NEW YACHT CLUB HEADQUARTERS

Mrs. Shields Officiates At Middle Island Ceremony

The official opening of the new clubhouse of the Royal Hong Kong Yacht Club at Middle Island took place yesterday when Mrs. A. L. Shields performed the opening ceremony.
A large number of members and their friends were present to witness the ceremony which took place at 1 p.m. Earlier in the morning, sculling events were held and some thrilling races and finishes were seen.
Previous to the opening ceremony, Mr. E. Cock, the Commodore called on Mrs. N. V. A. Croucher to present the season's prizes to the winners.

In a short address Mr. Cock said that despite the fact that it was customary for the Commodore to review the activities of the year, he was going to leave that to the Committee when they held their forthcoming meeting.
He said he was happy to announce that Kellie Island had been secured for the Club, subject of course, to the approval of the general meeting on May 4. (Applause).
